DISAPPOINTMENT.

FREEMASONS have long been accustomed to hear arguments used in favour of promotion by merit, also on behalf of advancement by seniority, and although there is much to be said on both sides we have long felt that strict regularity should be observed in putting forward brethren for office, or at least giving them the option of serving. Our argument has always been that if a brother does his best he is equally, or even more deserving than the member who, relying on natural gifts, does not specially exert himself in the discharge of his official duties, and we think it must be generally recognised that the man who is genuinely sincere in his endeavours to please is far more successful as an Officer than the Mason who does not consider there is any particular need for extra personal endeavour on his part in order to give satisfaction. Confidence in one's own ability is at all times desirable, but over-confidence is a serious blemish in any one, and particularly so among those who find themselves in an official position above their fellows.

Even if it were not possible to strongly argue on these lines in favour of promotion by seniority there is another factor to be considered, in the disappointment which must be felt by every brother passed over in his Lodge, simply because he is not quite so brilliant or self assertive as some of his fellows. We are now assuming that the brother is passed over in the lowest office of the Lodge, but it is not there alone that we find such practices. It occasionally happens that a member serves year after year as an officer in his Lodge, rising step by step with the full anticipation of reaching the chair in due course, only to be disappointed in the end by seeing some more attractive or enterprising brother promoted over his head, either to serve personal ends, or to give extra satisfaction to a section of the members. Is it to be wondered at that keen disappointment is felt under such circumstances? or that the disappointment engenders actual dissatisfaction and ultimate withdrawal from membership? and yet how can such practices be prevented?

So long as Freemasonry remains as popular as it is at the present time, when only a small minority of the members of our Lodges can hold office, there must always be a considerable amount of disappointment. Some members will be disappointed because they do not get promotion as a matter of routine, and other members will be equally dissatisfied because the special favours they anticipated do not fall to their lot as rapidly as they hoped, and were perhaps led to expect when they associated themselves with their Lodge. In the one case we can sympathise with the sufferers, in the other it is safe to say that some mistake has been made, and that the sooner the brother comes to fully recognise the absolute equality of Freemasonry the better it will be for his own comfort and for that of the brethren by whom he is surrounded.

Disappointment in Freemasonry, however, must be borne without murmur or complaint, and no matter how much aggrieved a Mason may feel when he is passed over he is expected to present as cheerful an appearance as if he had reached the summit of his ambition. On the principle that the Master of a Lodge cannot err, we are accustomed to hear that this or that proceeding is quite right, and that those who feel disappointment at the turn of event are not fully acting up to the tenets of Freemasonry, which should enable them to bow to the ruling of their superiors in the Craft without any sentiment of dissatisfaction. All this sounds very well in theory, but so long as Freemasons are human it will not prove satisfactory in practice, and those who have no hesitation in acting in such a way as to cause disappointment have only themselves to thank if their schemes end in misfortune. If they desire to succeed in their enterprises they will find it easier to advance on amicable terms with their fellows than to attempt to ride blindly on the goal they have in view, unmindful of the claims or the feelings of those they push aside. The introduction of the spirit of disappointment such as we are referring to cannot possibly prove an advantage in any Lodge, and those who act in such a way as to cause it are no true friends to the Order.

THE THREE RABONIS.

ADDRESS ON CAPITULAR MASONRY.

By Alexander H. Morgan, M.E. Grand High Priest
M.E. Grand Holy Royal Arch Chapter of Pennsylvania.

PART SECOND.

WE claim for Freemasonry the foremost place among existing fraternity associations, and we base that claim upon a sure foundation, because its principles are taken from the Holy Bible. One of the great advantages derived from our connection with Freemasonry is the necessary study of the sacred writings. Let us pause a moment and consider this great work, in which human faith and energy, prompted by divine inspiration, have brought to perfection those sublime ideas. The sincere votary of Freemasonry does not enter into a controversial discussion as to the truth of Biblical history, nor of the soundness of its doctrines. To do so would be a concession to the doubter and an admission of weakness on the part of the Masonic student of his Masonic belief. Once concede that certain portions of the sacred history are unreliable, and the Masonic fabric falls, because you take away its chief support, Holy Writ. Freemasonry could not exist without it. There is a popular delusion that the Bible is only for the preacher, the monk, the bigot or the student of ecclesiastical history. Nothing could be further from the truth. It addresses itself to humanity in every form, to all classes and conditions; alike to the lawyer and the divine, the learned and the ignorant, to the lovers of the sublime, the pathetic and the beautiful. The Masonic student cannot become acquainted with the practical meaning nor with the symbolism of the various parts of the Masonic work without frequent consultation of those inspired pages, and in addition to the moral precepts that constantly present themselves to the searcher of the Scriptures, he has before him the most ancient, the most interesting, and even fascinating of all histories.

No one, atheist or infidel, Jew or Christian, can deny those attributes of the Bible, and open it when you will or where you may, there are before you living pictures to which time adds more natural and vivid beauties.

From this never failing source we get the thrilling narration of the lives of the two kings of Israel and Most Excellent Masters, Saul and David. Of Saul, his stormy reign and tragic death, we have already spoken; let us now turn to the life of the shepherd king, whose reign, not the less eventful, was infinitely more useful to the Hebrew nation.

In David we find all the requisite qualifications of a Most Excellent Master. Virtue, zeal, skill and fidelity were combined with many other noble qualities; the gentleness of a woman and the courage of a hero, the humility of a saint and the dignity of a king, the endurance that carried him through years of suffering, and the abilities that overcame all obstacles, and enabled him eventually to triumph over all his foes; an imagination so lofty, so vivid and poetical, that his songs raised him above his mother earth and opened to his rapt soul the gates of heaven, and an abiding faith in God's providence that no reverses, no misfortunes, could destroy.

Among the names famous in Hebrew chronology, the Prophet Moses alone stands upon a higher plane than David, and the glory of his achievements have shed an undying light upon the nation over which he reigned. It was the prompting of his faith that first suggested to David the building of the Temple, and thus made possible to Freemasonry that "beautiful system of morality," a part of which is illustrated in the Sixth degree. The manner in which David was chosen to be the successor of Saul was in keeping with the singular course of events all leading towards the consummation of the great end for which a kingly government had been assigned by the Almighty to the Jews.

When Saul was forsaken of God and left to work out his own unhappy fate, the Prophet Samuel was again directed to seek a king for Israel, and, led by the divine inspiration, he came to Jesse the Bethlehemite and commanded him to call up his sons and pass them in review before him, that the one he was to anoint as the future king should be made aware of the high office to which God assigned him. But so insignificant was the youthful David at that time that his father appears almost to have forgotten his existence.

"And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and, behold, he keepeth the sheep.

"And he sent, and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look to. And the Lord said, Arise, anoint him: for this is he." (1 Sam. xvi. 11, 12).

It is well to remember that when David was anointed, Saul was in the plenitude of his power, with living sons to succeed him, and every prospect of a long and glorious reign. Sprung from an humble lineage, inured to the peaceful shepherd's life, tending his flocks on the plains of Judea, the son of Jesse was educated in nature's college. The blue sky of heaven, the sun, the moon and the stars were his preceptors.

With no weapons but the shepherd's staff, "the smooth pebbles of the brook, the sling in his right hand," he did not shrink from the encounter with the mighty giant who defied the hosts of Israel, and when the monster called to him to come and he would "give his flesh to the beasts of the earth and the fowls of the air," those savage threats struck no terror to the soul of the useful hero, whose sword and shield was the strong arm of the Omnipotent, which carried him safely through the unequal encounter.

Many centuries have come and gone since David and Goliath met upon the field of Elah. Kingdoms and empires have emerged from obscurity, risen to greatness and lapsed again into the unknown. A continent has come upon the scene of the world's history, out of which have been born many nations, which in power, population and importance far exceed the one whose early struggles form the theme of our present discourse. That nation has disappeared from among the numerous governments and peoples that parcel out the earth between them, and its descendents are scattered "like the autumn leaves" over all the earth. But the story of the beardless youth who met and vanquished the boasting champion of the unbelievers, lives to day in all its original reality. It has been a theme for sacred and profane historians to dilate upon. The poet, the painter and the sculptor, have combined to perpetuate and make immortal this opening scene in the dramatic life of him who afterwards became the king of Israel, and it will continue to exist among the foremost of the heroic deeds that excite the admiration of mankind, until time shall close the records of the past and Jew and Gentile shall have vanished and gone for ever.

While the victory of David over the Philistines raised him high in popularity with the Israelites, it also aroused the jealousy of Saul, and for many years we find him engaged in a constant struggle to preserve his life from both the open assaults and cunning machinations of his royal enemy.

Hunted like a wild beast, compelled to hide in woods and caves from the pursuit of a relentless foe, David still preserved the attributes of a noble nature, and though on more than one occasion the opportunity was offered to rid himself of his persecutor, and by a single blow he could have taken Saul's life and thus ended the misery he was unjustly suffering, yet nothing could induce him to raise his hand against the Lord's anointed; even when the Amalekite came to him with the crown and bracelets taken from the dead body of Saul and told how the king and his sons had fallen in battle, so far from rejoicing in the death of his persecutor, he broke into lamentations for the loss of Israel's king, and gave vent to the emotions of his soul in one of those sublime effusions which could emanate only from divine inspiration. It was ten years after the death of Saul when David was crowned king. During those years he was engaged in war with the surviving sons and the adherents of the house of Saul, until finally all the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron and swore allegiance to him, and he established himself at Jerusalem. The kingdom of Israel under the reign of David grew rapidly in strength, and despite occasional reverses he extended his dominions and formed alliances with the adjacent nations. Egypt, Tyre, and Ethiopia sought the friendship of the Jewish king, and the once despised Hebrews, the slaves who fled from out the land of their oppressors in the night, and who had been saved from their pursuers by the direct interposition of Providence, had now grown to be a mighty nation which in wealth and military power was the equal if not the superior of their former task-masters the Egyptians.

The territory of the Jews was of small dimensions when compared with the surrounding kingdoms, but the population was immense, and with the many smaller nations which had become tributary or allied to the Israelites enabled them to put in the field powerful armies: "eight hundred thousand valiant men in Israel that drew the sword; and the men of Judah were five hundred thousand men."

Thus the poor and unknown shepherd had become the commander of mighty armies.

But with David, as with other men raised from obscurity to greatness, the weak qualities of his character became apparent when fortune smiled upon him. It has been said that "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, some have greatness thrust upon them."

David achieved greatness, but being of human mould, it was not strange that the traditional failings of mankind should be found in the Jewish king, as they will continue to exist until man shall put off his present condition and walk not only in the image of his Maker but also in intellectual perfection.

In bringing up the Ark of the Covenant to the new Tabernacle he had erected for it within the walls of Jerusalem, David forgot the dignity of his exalted station and shamed his people by his extravagant behaviour.

Yielding to his passions and disregarding the rights of others, he brought upon himself the denunciation of the Prophet Nathan and the punishment of God. Even his favourite son Absalom rose in rebellion against him, and he again became a fugitive fleeing for his life. But the courage and loyalty of the faithful Joab saved and restored him to his kingdom.

It was then that the chastened and penitent monarch sought to regain the favour of the Almighty by building a house for the Ark of God.

"And it came to pass, when the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him rest round about from all his enemies ;

"That the king said unto Nathan the Phophet, See now, I dwell in an house of cedar, but the Ark of God dwelleth within curtains," (2 Sam. vii. 1, 2).

But with David, as it was with Moses, another was destined to complete the work whose foundation he had laid, and he learned through the inspired medium that his son and successor Solomon should be the one to fill the measure of Israel's glory. The remaining years of his reign were actively employed in extending his kingdom and increasing the wealth and power of the nation. All the territory from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea and the river Euphrates was annexed to or became tributary to the Jewish monarchy. David sat on his throne secure in the realization of the assurances Nathan had given: "And thine house and thy kingdom shall be established for ever." To fulfil this prediction, he made Solomon his successor and placed the sceptre in his hands, although he was not legally entitled to that honour.

David was seventy years old when he died, having reigned forty years.

"And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honour: and Solomon his son reigned in his stead," (1 Chron. xxix. 28).

This was the judgment of the Hebrew chronicler, and there is no reason to doubt its correctness. His was a life of striking vicissitudes. Called from the peaceful shepherd's avocation to govern a people of turbulent and rebellious disposition, who were surrounded with warlike and implacable foes, David developed extraordinary qualities of government and consolidated his power upon a sure and firm basis. His defects of character were so insignificant when compared with his high and noble conditions that we again apply to him as to his predecessor the title of Rabboni—Most Excellent Master.—Keystone.

[Bro. F. J. Price P.M. 159 and 196 has just sent me the foregoing, thus making one more addition to the series of "Ancient," or "Atholl" Warrants, inaugurated by Bro. John Constable P.M. 185, on 27th May 1876. Since his regretted departure for the Cape I have been anxious to complete the set, and now there are wanting but six. Who will secure transcripts of these, and thus put the finishing touches to a most valuable and interesting collection of existing "Atholl" Warrants?

"Dunscone," Torquay,
10th October 1892.

The Freemasons' Calendar and Directory for the Province of Gloucestershire, 1892, has just been issued to the Lodges. The little book presents a record of the Masonic doings of the preceding twelve months, which serves to maintain the continuity of the history of the Province of which the Freemasons of Gloucestershire have regularly received an annual instalment for the last fourteen years. The first publication of the Calendar took place in 1879, the late Colonel Basevi P.D.G.M. Punjaub being then its compiler; and since the death of Colonel Basevi, the present Deputy Grand Master of the Province (Bro. R. V. Vassar-Smith) has undertaken the work. The "record of Masonic occurrences" during the year 1891 includes notices of the death of several distinguished members of the Province, such as the late Bros. Newmarsh P.D.P.G.M., and Gwinnett P.P.G.J., W. P. Price Railway Commissioner and formerly M.P. for Gloucestershire, and J. J. Powell, Q.C., judge of Lambeth and Greenwich County Courts, recorder of Wolverhampton, and also formerly M.P. for Gloucester; the opening of a new Lodge at Stroud; and, in Mark Masonry, the installation of Bro. Vassar-Smith as Prov.G.M. in succession to Bro. the Baron de Ferrières. The charity record of the year is not unsatisfactory. Notwithstanding the many losses by death, there has been a small increase in the voting strength of the Province upon the three great Masonic Charities, coupled with a decided augmentation of support to the Provincial Charity. The number of votes held in the Province in connection with the Masonic Boys' and Girls' Schools, and the Benevolent Institution, is 3,624. It is the largest number yet reached, and it compares very favourably with the 839 votes held in 1879.

CONSECRATION OF THE ANDERIDA LODGE,
No. 2434.

A LARGE and influential gathering of Freemasons took place at the Town Hall, Eastbourne, on the 19th inst., when an especial meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Sussex was held for the consecration of the Anderida Lodge, No. 2434, and the installation of the Worshipful Master designate, Bro. W. E. Morrison (Mayor of Eastbourne), P.M. 916 and 1110, P. Prov. Grand Warden. The Lodge was opened by the Deputy Provincial Grand Master, Bro. the Right Hon. Sir W. T. Marriott, Q.C., M.P., P.G. Steward, who was supported by Bros. F. Bellingham P.M. 311 Prov. Grand Senior Warden, W. Wright P.M. 311 and 1303, and a large number of Provincial Grand Officers Present and Past, and several Officers of Grand Lodge. The Lodge having been duly opened, the hymn, "Hail, Eternal, by whose aid," was sung, and prayer was offered up by Bro. P. Crick Provincial Grand Chaplain. The Deputy Prov. Grand Master then addressed the brethren. He said that more than five years had elapsed since a new Lodge had been consecrated in the Province. Freemasonry, as in other Provinces, had increased in Sussex, but it was not deemed advisable to consecrate new Lodges until there were good grounds for anticipating permanency in them. Looking at the names of those brethren who had petitioned for the new Lodge, and at the rapid strides Eastbourne had made in every way, the Provincial Grand Master H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, and those who were consulted upon the matter, had no hesitation in granting the warrant for the Anderida Lodge. The founders of the new Lodge, as follow, were arranged in order, viz. :—Bros. W. E. Morrison 916 and 1110, Edward W. Adamson 1110, Josiah Brown 1110, Charles Tomes 1110, Frederick J. Cox 101, J. O. Lewis 960, W. Morris Caffyn 1110, Thomas McQueen 916, Leonard Jeffery 916, F. Lawson Lewis, J. C. Foran, John Easter 1110, C. Warwick Tomes 1110, T. H. Larkin, F. Bolton Sutton, Alfred John Howard 1110, J. H. Wright 1110, Charles H. Haine 1110, J. H. Campion Coles 916, Richard Pidcock 916, George A. Wallis 916, J. H. Ewart 916, T. W. Dean 1110, Thomas Cooper 916, James Croighton 1110, W. L. Wallis 916, F. W. Bathurst, Alfred A. Oakden, J. A. Skinner, and H. Sutton 1110. The Prov. Grand Secretary having read the Petition and Warrant, and the Founders having signified their approval of the Officers named in the Warrant, the Rev. J. Puttick Provincial Grand Chaplain delivered an address on the nature and principles of Freemasonry. After the hymn, "How vast must their advantage be," had been sung, and the Dedication Prayer having been given, the Lodge was duly consecrated, dedicated, and constituted, the ceremony being impressively performed by the Deputy Provincial Grand Master. The hymn, "Glory to God on high," was sung, and on the termination of the Benediction Bro. Morrison was installed as Worshipful Master of the Lodge by Bro. Freeman Provincial Grand Secretary, who conducted the ceremony in an able and impressive manner. The charges were given by Bros. Dawes, Wright, and Currie (Dean of Battle). The newly-appointed Worshipful Master then appointed and invested his Officers, as follow :—Bros. Adamson I.P.M., C. Warwick Tomes S.W., Haine J.W., Charles Tomes Treas., Wright Secretary, Pidcock S.D., Dean J.D., Lewis Dir. of Cers., McQueen I.G., Easter Org., Howard S.S., Caffyn J.S., Goldring Tyler. The following committee were appointed to frame the bye-laws, viz. :—the W.M., S.W., J.W., Treasurer, Secretary, with Brother Howard and Bro. F. Lawson Lewis; and Bro. Howard was appointed to serve on the Charities' Committee of the Provincial Grand Lodge. Propositions for initiation and joining were received. The Lodge was then duly closed, the ceremony terminating with the hymn "O God, our help in ages past." The musical arrangements were carried out under the able direction of Bro. John Easter P.P.G.O., an especial word of praise being also due to Bro. W. Gill for the admirable manner in which he acted as Dir. of Cers. The brethren of the newly consecrated Anderida Lodge and the visiting brethren adjourned to the Queen's Hotel, where nearly a hundred sat down to an elegant banquet, under the presidency of the newly-installed W.M., Bro. W. Morrison. The Chairman, in brief and appropriate terms, proposed the Queen and the Craft and the M.W. the Grand Master H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, each of which met with a hearty reception. He then gave the Officers of Grand Lodge, Present and Past. Those brethren, he said, were worthy of the esteem of all the members of the Craft. The Lodge had been honoured by the presence of several members of Grand Lodge. He was sorry that Bro. Somerville Burney had been compelled to leave, and regretted the unavoidable absence of Bros. T. Trollope and E. Letchworth Grand Secretary. He wished particularly to thank Bros. V. P. Freeman and R. Clowes for their attendance, and was especially grateful to Brother Freeman for conducting the installation ceremony. Bro. Oswald Thompson thanked the W.M. for the handsome terms in which he had proposed the toast, and the brethren for the cordial manner in which they had received it. From personal experience he could bear testimony to the personal qualities of the Earl of Lathom the Pro Grand Master, and the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe the Deputy Grand Master, and to the admirable manner in which they had carried out their Masonic duties. The other Grand Officers fully merited the approval bestowed upon them, for they had the dignity and utility of the Craft at heart. Brother Freeman also acknowledged the toast. The W.M. proposed the M.W. the Provincial Grand Master H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, the W. Deputy Provincial Grand Master the Right Hon. Sir W. T. Marriott, Q.C., M.P., P.G. Steward, and the Officers of Provincial Grand Lodge Present and Past. They had hoped, he said, to have had the privilege of seeing the Duke amongst them, and they heartily wished him long life and prosperity. He (Bro. Morrison) was grateful to Bro. Sir William Marriott for coming to consecrate the Lodge. He also spoke in kindly terms of Bros. Bellingham, Wright, Puttick, Crick, Terry, Dawes, and Farncombe. Bro. Sir W. T. Marriott, in responding, said that with regard to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, he did not think any Provincial Grand Master throughout the United Kingdom took greater interest in his Province than did the Duke in that of Sussex. He hoped the brethren would appear in a strong body to support him at the approaching Provincial Grand Lodge. The remaining Officers all did their best for the Province. Speaking for himself, he said he had experienced great pleasure in being present at the consecration, and was glad to find Masonry so rapidly advancing in Sussex, for nothing could do more good to the country. In the Lodge politics and religious discussions were forgotten, and all met for the promotion of brotherly feeling. He was delighted to find that the Anderida Lodge was opened under such favourable auspices, thirty members having been enrolled, and twelve or thirteen others coming in. He congratulated them upon their highly successful gathering. Bro. C. W. Randolph also acknowledged the toast, and, alluding to the Worshipful Master's excellent work in Arch Masonry, said he had bestowed upon him the highest office possible in that degree. He heartily wished the Lodge increased prosperity. Bro. W. Dawes also replied, and said the Provincial Grand Officers fully appreciated the kindness shown to them. The Worshipful Master then proposed the Visitors, remarking that the brethren of the Lodge welcomed them heartily. The toast was acknowledged by Bros. Bellingham, Duke, Dale, Hart, and Abell. Bro. Dawes next submitted prosperity to the Anderida Lodge. He congratulated the brethren upon the highly successful manner in which their Lodge has been opened. He eulogised the W.M., who in Freemasonry and other walks of life had earned the esteem and affection of his fellow men. He also alluded to the strength imparted to the new Lodge by securing such worthy Freemasons as Bro. C. Warwick Tomes and C. H. Haine as Wardens, and believed the Anderida Lodge had a very successful future before it. The Worshipful Master, on rising to respond, was received with enthusiasm. He thanked Bro. Dawes for the kind manner in which he proposed the toast, and said no effort on his part would be spared to make the Lodge one of great success. With the support of such able and experienced brethren as those who undertook office under him he believed such success was assured. The remaining toasts were the Masonic Benevolent Institutions, and the Tyler's toast. During the evening a pleasing programme of music was sustained (under the direction of Bro. John Easter P.M. P.P.G. Organist) by Bro. A. A. Oakden, Bro. J. Easter, Mr. J. T. Parsons, Mr. Charles Roper, and Mr. S. G. R. Coles, F.C.O., Mus. Bac., the last named proving an able accompanist.

ANGEL LODGE, No. 51.

THE members of this Lodge celebrated the 157th anniversary of their Lodge, at Colchester, on Thursday, the 20th inst., and the proceedings passed off most successfully. The principal business of the meeting was the installation of Bro. Harold Francis S.W. as Worshipful Master for the ensuing year, which ceremony was ably performed by Bro. F. C. H. Jones Provincial Grand Steward, the outgoing W.M. The Officers for the year were appointed and invested as under :—Bros. F. C. H. Jones I.P.M., Claude E. Egerton-Green S.W., George F. Wright J.W., the Rev. W. Morgan Jones Chaplain, John J. C. Turner Treasurer, T. J. Ralling Secretary, Harry Becker S.D., Captain Naylor Leyland J.D., R. Howard Ives Dir. of Cers., C. Osmond Organist, J. W. Start I.G., J. S. FitzJohn Steward, Arthur Wright Tyler. A candidate for initiation and a joining member having been proposed, and a hearty vote of thanks passed to Bro. F. C. H. Jones for his able rendering of the ceremony of the day, the new W.M. expressed on behalf of the members of the Lodge their great pleasure in having been honoured by the presence of the Deputy Provincial Grand Master. Bro. F. A. Philbrick, in acknowledging the greeting, said it always gave him intense pleasure to be amongst his brethren, but particularly those of his native town; and one of the greatest comforts to him during the recent anxious time—he might say agoing time—he had passed through had been the great sympathy that had been shown to him by the Masonic fraternity. Sympathy had been extended to him from all quarters of the globe—but he had been, perhaps, most deeply touched by the earnest and spontaneous kindness that had been evinced by the brethren of the mystic tie. At the close of the Lodge between 50 and 60 brethren dined together at the Cups Hotel, the repast being thoroughly well served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Brown. In the course of the evening Bro. Captain Naylor Leyland intimated his desire to present a Worshipful Master's chair to the Lodge. Among the Visitors present on the occasion were Bros. F. A. Philbrick, Q.C., Grand Registrar, Deputy Provincial Grand Master Essex, Dr. Zichy-Woynaski, J. H. Salter Prov. G.J.W., Arthur Sparling Provincial Grand Treasurer, G. H. Grimwood P.M. 1224 P.P.G.S. of Works Suffolk (Mayor of Sudbury), &c., &c.

Bagnall J.W., John Roberts P.M. P.P.G.D.C. Treasurer, G. T. Mullock P.M. Secretary, Thos. Shorrook P.M. acting S.D., R. A. Eldershaw P.M. Dir. of Cers., R. Peak P.M. 993 P.G.D.C., and others. The Lodge was opened at 5.15 and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. In the second degree Bro. T. B. Booth having answered the necessary questions, received the test of merit and retired. Bro. Booth was subsequently raised to the sublime degree by the W.M., after which, there being no further business, the Lodge was closed in due form. A novel and highly successful departure was made on this occasion, by the presence of ladies at the supper and social board. The experiment commenced at the October meeting last year, and was so successful that it was determined to repeat it. The club smoke-room was set apart for the reception of the fair sex, who so far appreciated the concession, by mustering in goodly numbers. When supper was announced ready, the brethren escorted their wives and daughters to the dining-room, which presented an unusually cheerful aspect when the ladies and brethren were seated. Ample justice was done to the good things provided, the company mustering sixty-one. After supper the usual Loyal toasts were proposed and duly honoured, the ordinary Masonic toasts were on this occasion dispensed with, with the exception of that of the W.M., which was proposed in eulogistic terms and heartily drunk. Bro. Martin Thomas P.M. P.P.G.D. singing, by express desire, "Here's to his health." The Ladies was proposed by the Rev. Phillip Hains P.M. and Chaplain, and responded to in a most humorous speech by Bro. Walter G. Bagnall J.W., who for the time being posed as a lady, acknowledging with gratitude the compliment that had been made by the admission and entertainment of himself and sisters amongst the brethren. Some exceptionally good singing and playing was much enjoyed by all present. A quartette party, consisting of those well-known executants, Bros. Martin Thomas, T. Shorrocks, Maxfield, and Hinchliffe, sang some well-known glees most artistically. Mrs. Tennant, wife of Bro. Tennant, of Free Trade Hall renown, possesses a rich contralto voice, and her rendering of "When the heart is young" was delightful. The Misses Hinchliffe, Maxfield, and Eldershaw showed marked ability in pianoforte solos. Bro. Ward, of "Minnehaha Minstrel" fame, treated the company to a fine performance on the "bones." Bro. Lisenden received an ovation after reciting "Over the hills from the poor house," and later on, by desire, gave the sensational "Kissing Cup's Race."

Charlton and Boyer was proposed and heartily drunk, each Brother replying in appropriate terms. Some first class singing and reciting was rendered by those well-known local artists Bros. J. D. Smith, Wm. Howard, Jas. Robinson, and Robert Dottie. Bro. Charles Dober, whose presence is at all times exceedingly welcome, rendered valuable service at the piano.

DERWENT LODGE No. 884.

THE anniversary of this Lodge, was celebrated on Monday, the 10th inst., and proved one of the most successful and enjoyable Masonic gatherings held in Wirksworth for a good many years past. Largely as a result of the personal popularity of the incoming Worshipful Master (Bro. Doctor J. R. Fielding) many brethren attended from Derby, Matlock, Belper, Alfreton, Bakewell and other towns, whilst several journeyed from the neighbouring Province of Nottinghamshire to do honour to the occasion. The business of the Lodge was transacted in the large room of the George Hotel. The ceremony of installing the new Master was performed by Brother Wallis P.P.G.S.W., assisted by Brother Piper P.P.G.D. of C., and subsequently Brother Fielding appointed and invested his Officers in the following order:—Bros. Jones I.P.M., George S.W., Simpson J.W., Hall P.M. Treasurer, Hindle P.M. Secretary, Harston S.D., Toder J.D., R. Green I.G., Greatorex Tyler. At the conclusion of the business, the brethren, to the number of about forty, adjourned to the Town Hall, where Host Shaw, of the George Hotel, supplied an excellent and substantial banquet. After the Masonic toasts had been submitted, the health of the newly-installed Wor. Master was drunk with enthusiasm. Brother Henry George, in submitting the toast, alluded sympathetically to the long and painful illness which had afflicted Brother Fielding, and expressed the hope that he would have the strength, as he was sure he possessed the ability and inclination, to serve the best interests of the Derwent Lodge. Brother Fielding assured the brethren that although he had been for a comparatively brief period connected with the fraternity, he had endeavoured to make good use of his time, and added his determination to "pull round" the Derwent Lodge as much as possible. A number of other toasts were submitted, and, under the direction of Brothers Dodd and Day, some excellent music was contributed.

THE BURGOYNE LODGE, No. 902.

THE usual annual festival of this ancient Lodge took place on Monday afternoon, at Anderton's Hotel, Fleet Street, E.C., when a full Masonic bill of fare was provided for the delectation of the brethren. Bro. Edward S. White W.M. presided, and was supported by the following members and visitors:—Bros. W. Drewett P.P.G.St.B. Surrey, John Osborn P.P.G.St.B., Henry Baldwin P.P.G.S.B. Middlesex, Gabb P.M. Treasurer, S. G. Byng P.M. Secretary, John Drewett P.P.A.G.P. Surrey, T. C. Edmonds P.M. 1507, J. Ewington P.M. 172, W. Batty P.M., Orton Cooper W.M. 211, J. S. Taverner W.M. 1044, Geo. Harlow P.M. 1613, W. J. Lavington P.M. 1297, John Barnett P.M. 2192, J. H. Sharp P.M. 1437, J. Sargeant W.M. 1765, H. Davey P.M. 1326, Ernest Von Bibra I.P.M. 1669, Barcham Cooper P.M. 1441, John Beddoes I.P.M., W. Wilkins P.M., W. C. Smith P.M., J. Abrahams P.M., G. Fox P.M., James Strong 1692, Hy. Collings 1585, Geo. Callingham 1765, W. G. Boswell 2417, J. Simpson 2157, T. Mayes 1613, the Officers of the Lodge, and many other brethren. By the W.M.'s command the brethren appeared in mourning in consequence of the lamented death of Bro. Robert Chapman, late head Master of St. Mary Abbot's School. After the Lodge had been opened and the minutes confirmed, the report of the audit committee was received, adopted and carried. Bro. W. Merrett, having given proof of his proficiency, was raised to the sublime degree of M.M., the ceremony being worked in a masterly manner by Bro. White. The installation of Bro. Horace Norrington S.W., who had been previously elected, was then proceeded with, no less than twenty-two Installed Masters constituting the board. The ritual in this degree was also conducted by Brother White, in a most perfect manner, the various addresses being splendidly delivered. After being saluted according to ancient custom, the newly-made Master invested the following brethren as his Officers for the ensuing year:—Bros. W. R. Larter S.W., S. Rashleigh J.W., Gabb P.M. Treasurer, S. J. Byng P.M. Secretary, Charles Cowland S.D., G. W. Pillinger J.D., Butcher I.G., W. Batty P.M. D.C., J. Field A.D.C., and F. Reeves Steward. The ballot was then taken and proved unanimous in favour of Mr. Robert Ronald, who was initiated into the mysteries and privileges of ancient Freemasonry by Bro. Norrington, who amply proved his capacity for the duties of the chair. On the proposition of Bro. White, seconded by Bro. Larter, a vote of condolence was ordered to be sent to the family of the deceased Bro. Robert Chapman. It was also decided that the Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction should be removed to the King's Arms, John Street, Bedford Row, W.C. This concluding the business of the evening, the Lodge was duly closed, and the brethren adjourned to the banquet room, where an excellent repast was served. The usual Loyal and Masonic toasts were duly proposed, but in consequence of the lateness of the hour the W.M. requested that all speeches should be as brief as possible. Thus in a few well chosen remarks Brother White gave the health of the Worshipful Master, who thanked the brethren for the honour conferred upon him, and hoped they would overlook all his shortcomings and give him the benefit of their assistance and experience during the ensuing year. Bro. Norrington was, however, compelled to break through his ruling in proposing the health of Bro. White I.P.M. and installing Master, to whom he said the success of the evening was due. He had cheerfully undertaken his duties, and whatever he had been required to do, he had done with credit to himself and credit to the Lodge. He concluded by presenting him with a very handsome Lodge jewel, which had been voted by the brethren, and hoped he might long live to wear it as a memento of his very pleasant year of office. Bro. White, in reply, said that no formal words could express his thanks for the great kindness he had received during his Mastership. Most Masters said that their happiest day was when they were placed in the chair, but he considered that he was the more happy that day because he had come out of it, for he had received a very substantial recognition of their appreciation from the brethren, in the shape of the beautiful jewel. He was proud to think that his services had given satisfaction, and congratulated his successor on the prosperous condition of the Lodge. The W.M. then submitted the toast of the Initiate in a few earnest words, which were acknowledged by Bro. Ronald, who thanked the brethren for receiving him among them, and hoped in time he would become a true and good Mason. Bros. W. Drewett, J. Osborne, H. Baldwin, J. Simpson, and B. Cooper responded for the Visitors. The health of the Treasurer and Secretary was then given. Bro. Gabb, after thanking the brethren for the cordial manner in which they had drunk his health, stated that the Lodge was in a most healthy state, and that all the while he was so generously supported his services as their Treasurer would always be at the Lodge's disposal. Bro. Byng followed, and returned thanks for the kind manner in which the W.M. had proposed his health. If he had wanted any convincing proof or had any doubt that his re-election as Secretary met with the approval of the brethren it was entirely dissipated by the very cordial manner the toast of his health had been received by the brethren. As father of the Lodge he had to thank also his dutiful sons for their generous assistance, which made his duty not only so much easier, but attended with a vast amount of pleasure. The unity of the brethren of the Lodge was second to none; they were proverbially the bundle of sticks so strongly knit together in brotherly love, relief and truth, that it was almost impossible to sever them. The various Officers having been complimented, the interesting proceedings were brought to a close with the Tyler's toast.

UNITED SERVICE LODGE, No. 1428.

A LARGE number of Masons assembled at the Freemasons' Hall, Landport, on Friday, the 21st inst., on the occasion of the installation of Bro. Stewart S.W. as Worshipful Master for the ensuing year. The Lodge was opened by the W.M. (Bro. Miles), and after the usual business Bro. Miller presented Bro. Stewart for installation. The ceremony was admirably carried out. The new W.M. appointed and invested his Officers for the year, as follow:—Bros. Stockall S.W., Martin J.W., Williams Treasurer, Milton Secretary, Lavity P.M. Dir. of Cers., Kenshett S.D., Outtrim J.D., Davis Organist, White I.G., Exell Tyler. The W.M. then presented Bro. Miles briefly thanked the brethren for their gift. The customary banquet followed.

Reg., James R. Ashworth S.W. 1161, Joseph and William Schofield 1161, John Goss S.W. 2156, J. E. Carse 1375, Stephen Jupp P.M. 1140 P.G. Organist, and Dr. Allen 2331. The Lodge was opened in due form at 3.45, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. The Auditors reported the result of their inspection of the Treasurer's accounts, which were in every sense satisfactory, and a vote of thanks for their services was unanimously carried. The ceremony of installing Bro. John Morris W.M. for the ensuing year was then proceeded with. Bro. J. C. Gillman P.M. P.P.G.D., who has installed every W.M. since the Lodge was consecrated, once again performed the duties in that careful and correct manner peculiar to him. Bro. Morris was presented to the Installing Master by Bro. Wm. Blears W.M., and after the usual preliminaries and with all due rite and ceremony inducted into the chair of K.S. for the ensuing twelve months. On the re-admission of all M.M.'s, Brother Morris was proclaimed and saluted in the usual manner. The following brethren, with the exception of Bro. Maybury, who was unavoidably absent, were appointed Officers for the year, and were invested and addressed by Bro. Gillman, viz.:—Bros. Francis Long S.W., Percy E. Land J.W., George Burslem P.M. Treasurer, J. C. Gillman P.M. P.P.G.D. Secretary, Ramsey Knight S.D., A. H. Renshaw J.D., H. S. Johnson I.G., C. W. Maybury P.M. Organist, A. R. Johnson, J. S. Done, and Wm. Yeadon Stewards, Wm. Riddell Tyler. The address to the W.M. was delivered by Bro. Blears, to the Wardens by Bro. H. P. Jones, and to the brethren by Bro. Burslem. The installation ceremony concluded, and there being no further business, the Lodge was closed in peace and harmony. The brethren subsequently celebrated the Festival of St. John with a banquet, prepared and served under the superintendence of Mrs. and Miss Toulmin and their assistants. The usual Loyal and Masonic toasts were proposed and honoured, Bros. Jupp, Gillman and Jones responding for the P.G. Officers. Bro. Wm. Blears I.P.M., in proposing the health of the W.M., said they had in Bro. Morris a man who would do his duty, and be, as he always had been, an honour to the Trafford Lodge. Every member of the Lodge was fully aware how zealous their Worshipful Master had shown himself in the performance of his various duties in the past, and there was not the slightest reason to doubt but that he would continue to do all his power to promote the interests of his Lodge and endear himself to all its members. That his year of office might be a successful and pleasant one was, he felt sure, the earnest wish of all present, and he therefore called upon the brethren to rise and drink heartily to the toast. It is scarcely necessary to remark that Bro. Blears's invitation was promptly and cheerfully acceded to, after which Bro. Stephen Jupp sang "Here's to his health in a song." As a rule this grand refrain is listened to with the utmost attention and thoroughly enjoyed by the company on these annual festivals, but in consequence of Bro. Jupp's desire to endeavour to make popular a new tune to the fine words of the song, great astonishment was depicted on the countenances of all present, at what was evidently considered the wrong melody. Brother Jupp's fine voice certainly did the song justice, but the tune was not in evidence. With all due respect to the laudable ambition of composers to, if possible, improve a popular tune, we think this song, that has become so popular in the North of England, should be sung with the original music, which, like the air of "God save the Queen" every one knows, and would prefer to hear. Bro. Morris made an appropriate reply, in the course of which he said that during his Masonic career, when fulfilling the various offices, he had endeavoured to perform the duties attached thereto to the best of his ability, and he assumed, from the honourable position he now occupied, that he had given satisfaction for which he naturally felt very pleased. He could not look back without remembering with gratitude how willing at all times the P.M.'s were to advise, and, if necessary, assist him, and he felt more comfortable when taking such an important position as W.M. of the Trafford Lodge that he could rely upon their assistance in the future as in the past. The P.M.'s were undoubtedly a tower of strength in their Lodge, and there was no doubt it was in consequence of the interest they continued to take in it as shown by their constant attendance and ever readiness to assist and advise the Officers, that the success and prosperity of the Lodge was due. He should endeavour to emulate the example of the Past Masters, and as it was the duty of every man to do his best, he assured the brethren they might rely upon his doing so, and maintaining the prestige the Lodge had so long enjoyed. The health of the I.P.M. Bro. Blears was proposed in eulogistic terms by Bro. John Morris, who spoke in high terms of praise of the zealous manner he had performed his duties during the past year. Every duty and ceremony had been performed by Bro. Blears with characteristic care and correctness, whilst his affable, courteous manner had caused him to become exceedingly popular amongst the members. He (Bro. Morris) trusted the I.P.M. would live for many years, and be present at their meetings to give all who required it the benefit of his advice. The toast was heartily drunk, and Brother Blears made an appropriate reply. Bro. George Burslem proposed the Visitors in felicitous terms, several of their number replying. Other toasts were honoured, including the Installing Master, Masonic Charities, the P.M.'s, the Officers, &c., a pleasant evening's enjoyment terminating at eleven o'clock. During the intervals between the toasts some capital songs were sung by Bros. Jupp, Dr. Allin, Lees, &c.; Bro. Lisenden gave two recitations.

A very happy meeting and prosperous year is fore-shadowed and anticipated, as the W.M. is endowed with suaviter in modo fortitius in re.

TRUTH.—I.

Now, kind, enchanting, loved Melpomene,
Invigorate my mind with all thy charms;
Thy Nine all-powerful daughters send to me,
So that my breast may have no wild alarms.
I would be full of peace and joyful rest;
Far hence would banish every thought of rath;
I would be full of bliss—for doubly blest
Is he whose watchword, sweet and pure, is Truth.
Oh! I would ask for all thine eloquence,
For all thy glorious, bright, and perfect ways;
That, with no knowledge of incompetence,
I unto Truth could give my lasting praise.
Oh! may it in true Mason's heart e'er shine,
And lend to him its radiance divine!

The Biographical Magazine for September contains a short account of the life and an admirable portrait of Bro. T. Hunter-Boyd, the present courteous and intelligent lecturer at the Niagara Hall, Westminster. No one who has visited the exhibitions of "Jerusalem" and "Egypt," can have failed to remark the full measure of information conveyed in a few words by Bro. Boyd, nor the patience with which he listens to the observations, often frivolous, and answers the questions of the more interested among the spectators. Bro. T. Hunter-Boyd is a member of St. John's Kilwinning Lodge, No. 28, and takes great interest in all that pertains to the Craft, especially in connection with ancient Egyptology.

CELEBRATION OF BRO. GEORGE M. KEMP'S MEMORY.

THE Edinburgh St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 48, on the 14th instant, celebrated the anniversary of the initiation of Bro. George M. Kemp, the architect of the Scott Monument. Bro. Woodson R.W.M. presided over the meeting, which took place in the Lodge room of the Freemasons' Hall. In proposing "The Memory of Brother Kemp," the Rev. J. R. Sabiston said that Kemp was initiated on 5th October 1827. They had in the room a very precious relic from his hand. The chair in which the Right Worshipful Master sat was the work of George Kemp. It was richly engraved with emblems of their Craft, and St. Andrew's Lodge cherished it as amongst its first and dearest possessions. The principles of Masonry were the highest under which man could live. They were, indeed, the very principles of Christianity, and Kemp lived up to them, being an honour to the Masonic Craft. His life was an example and an inspiration to all of them. He taught them in the first place enthusiastic devotion to duty, and in the second place his life told them to work and labour, to rise above their outward circumstances, to grapple with their evil star, and, in the end, to grasp success. It was a great satisfaction to them to have amongst them that night one closely related to him, Brother Thomas Bounar, Kemp's nephew, who had so eloquently and gracefully written the life of his distinguished uncle.

Brother L. J. Nicholson (Bard of Thule), post of the Lodge, recited the following verses which he had composed for the occasion:—

Some sing the praises of princes, and of kings,
When they can boast the worth of common clay;
I sing a nobler song, as he who sings
Of one whose name can never pass away.

He walked the rugged path of peasant life,
Not gold but art he sought to make his own;
With all the world against him in the strife,
He fought the fight triumphant, and alone.

The mind and eye of genius rovd' afar,
And when, at last, the thought had fully grown,
Then grandly rose to light of sun and star
His dream of poesy, enshrined in stone.

In peerless beauty, fair Edina stands,
A vision of enchantment evermore;
He placed upon her head, with his own hands,
A fairer crown than ever monarch wore.

A grateful tribute to Sir Walter Scott—
And shall the name and fame of Kemp grow dim?
Till art and poesy be all forgot,
This priceles monument will speak for him.

Alarm at the door! Enquire the cause:
A well-known brother from the silent land;
We welcome him by love's unwritten laws,
And in the spirit grasp our brother's hand.

His mother Lodge will honour him to-night;
And long as heart can warm and mind can think,
We love the man, admire the genius bright—
And now the memory of Kemp we drink.

—Shetland Times.

PROV. GRAND LODGE OF WEST YORKSHIRE.

WHAT was probably the largest and most representative gathering of members of the Masonic Craft which has ever taken place in Bradford was held on Wednesday afternoon, at the Technical College, Bradford. The occasion was the half-yearly meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of West Yorkshire of Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons. It is six years since the Provincial Grand Lodge previously met in Bradford. Wednesday's gathering was held under the banner of the Prince of Wales Lodge, 1648, of which Bro. Walter Binns is the W.M., but the duty of arranging for the meeting and welcoming the Grand Officers and guests was cordially supported by the Officers and members of each of the other six Lodges in the town. The chair at the Prov. Grand Lodge was taken by the Deputy Provincial Grand Master, Bro. Henry Smith, in the absence of Bro. Thomas William Tew, the Provincial Grand Master, whose continued illness, now extending over eighteen months, all members of the Craft deeply regret. There was a very large attendance of Grand Officers, Present and Past, whilst, with two or three exceptions, every Lodge in the Province was also represented. Among the visitors was Bro. Edward Letchworth, the successor to the late Colonel Shadwell Clerke in the Secretaryship of the Grand Lodge of England. Masonic salutations were given to the Grand Officers, the Grand Secretary, and distinguished visitors. The minutes of the Provincial Grand Lodge, held at Leeds, on Monday, the 25th April last, were accepted and confirmed.

The acting Grand Master delivered an address which he prefaced by expressing the regret which the members would all feel at the absence of the Right Wor. Prov. Grand Master, and their sympathy with him in the serious affliction which had visited him. He grieved to say that the prospect of Bro. Tew being among them again still appeared remote. He (Bro. Smith) had in his absence endeavoured to the best of his ability to discharge the duties of the Grand chair, and with the co-operation of the brethren he would continue to do so until some one more able—though certainly not more willing—had been appointed to the post, of which he was anxious to be relieved. He offered a hearty welcome to the Grand Secretary of England (Bro. Edward Letchworth), and assured him that no effort would be lost to strengthen the friendship and good understanding which had so long existed between the Executive of the Grand Lodge and the Province of West Yorkshire. He was sure he would also be expressing the sentiments of all present when he said they entertained a loyal devotion to the Grand Master His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. Freemasonry had increased so rapidly of late years, and numbered in its ranks so many good and worthy men, that there had been a desire to increase the number of those upon whom Masonic honours could be conferred. A proposal to that effect had been before the Grand Lodge, but it was withdrawn, though he had very little doubt it would again be brought forward. After making some suggestions with regard to the financial management of Lodges, Bro. Smith proceeded to refer to the Masonic Charities. He said the support given to those Charities during the past year had been of the most substantial and satisfactory character. The amount obtained in support of the various Institutions for Old People was £66,000, for the Girls' School £10,000, for the Boys' School £12,220. That sum since the making up of the return had been increased to £92,000. In that handsome amount West Yorkshire had given £4,220, namely, £3,853 to the Old People's fund, £210 to the Girls', and £157 to the Boys'. After referring to Bro. Matthewman's book of the "Masonic Addresses of Bro. Thomas William Tew R.W. Provincial Grand Master," of which, he said, only a few copies yet remained unsold, Bro. Smith acknowledged the cordial way in which the Provincial Grand Lodge had been invited to Bradford, and the complete arrangements made for the reception of the brethren. There was, he said, a vigorous Masonic life in Bradford. There were now no fewer than seven Lodges in the town, with a membership of 342, of whom ninety-seven had passed the chair. He thought he might say they were justly proud of their past history, and he believed they were determined to maintain the high character of Masonry in the district, and to tread in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors.

Bro. T. Bateman Fox P.M. 208, chairman of the Charity Committee, presented his half-yearly report, and moved its adoption. He said that at the election of candidates for Masonic bounties in May last they brought forward five candidates, four males and one widow, and they succeeded in carrying all the five. This was something to be proud of, and he was also exceedingly glad to say that at the present time they had no candidate for any of the Masonic Institutions so far as that Province was concerned. The Charity Committee were graceful for the confidence which the members at all times placed in them. He could assure them that the benefits of the institutions were used in accordance with the wishes of the subscribers, and that no case which came before the executive was neglected. He thanked the brethren in West Yorkshire for the very handsome way in which they had responded to the claims of the Charities, and for the promptitude with which they had returned the voting papers.

Bro. W. C. Lupton, Vice-Chairman of the Committee, seconded the adoption of the report, which was carried.

Bro. Edward Letchworth and other distinguished visitors acknowledged the salutations of the brethren in a few appropriate remarks.

It was decided to make a grant, not exceeding ten guineas, for the purchase of a safe for the preservation of Masonic MSS., medals, and curios.

No petitions for relief were brought before the meeting.

An invitation from the Wakefield Lodges was extended for the holding of the next half-yearly meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge in that city, in April 1893.

After the completion of the business of the Lodge, the brethren dined together at the Alexandra Hotel.

The Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction has now been removed to the King's Arms, John Street, Bedford Row, W.C. The meetings are held every Thursday evening, Bro. Henry Baldwin P.P.G.S.B. Middlesex P.M. and P.Z. being the Preceptor, and Bro. Frederick Reeves has accepted the post of Secretary.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Diseases of the Skin.—No case of disease of the skin, be its nature what it may, has failed to be benefited when these potent remedies have been properly applied. In scrofulous and scurvy affections they are especially serviceable. Scurvy and eruptions, which had resisted all other modes of treatment, and gradually become worse from year to year, have been completely cured by Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills, which root out the disease from the blood itself, and leave the constitution free from every morbid taint. In the nursery Holloway's Ointment should be ever at hand; it will give ease in sprains, contusions, turns, scalds, and infantile eruptions, and may always safely be applied by any ordinary attendant.

FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY.

AS Masons do we not sometimes forget the beautiful lessons we are taught in our symbolic language of the principal rounds of our theological ladder, representing faith, hope, and charity, and that the greatest of these is charity? What a beautiful lesson; yet how soon forgotten by many of the Fraternity. It may be an old member who asks for aid and assistance, one who has nearly reached the allotted time of three score years and ten, and has been stricken by sickness for several years, and has been reduced to absolute want. He has in his younger days been an active and zealous workman in building our moral and Masonic edifice, and his zeal and fidelity have been fully recognised by the Craft, by elevating him to the highest offices in the Lodge, Chapter and Commandery, but now alas, he is poor and scarcely able to provide the necessary food for his family, and many times they lack the comforts of life. He is steady, sober and industrious as far as his bodily health will permit, and instead of using his earnings in paying his dues to the Fraternity he uses them for the benefit of his family. But the Fraternity at the present day has no use for him, as he does not aid in increasing the funds, which from present appearances seems to be the great aim of the Fraternity, and consequently he must be suspended. Such was not the spirit evinced by Masons in years gone by, and it is not the teaching of our great Light, by which Masons are taught, or at least should be, as it is given as a rule and guide for our faith and practice through life, that beautiful lesson taught by our Spiritual Trestle Board that if a brother is poor and fallen into decay we should relieve him, even though he be a stranger and sojourner among you. As Masons we are taught that the greatest of the graces is Charity, as that extends beyond the vale through the boundless realms of eternity.

The Masonry of to-day differs very materially from that of thirty or even twenty years ago. Then the Fraternity were bound together by strong ties of brotherly love and affection united into one chain or society of friends or brothers. Now a very different state of things seems to exist, and our old Masonic Patriarchs are seldom seen in our Lodge-rooms. As one of them said in presence of the writer, "I should scarcely know I was in a Masonic Lodge by the proceedings; they are so different from what I was instructed." Masons claim that Masonry has descended through the ages, unchanged by time and uncontrolled by prejudice. Would to God this claim was true. Let us, my brothers, pause and take a retrospective view of the teachings of our beloved Order. Let us examine the ancient landmarks, and see how near we are following them. I venture the assertion that not one in ten of our members of the present day even read them. Masons of the present day, or very few of them at least, care to inform themselves in regard to the history on the ancient landmarks of the Order. Brothers, allow an old man who loves the Order to say to you in all kindness, remember your obligations, and study and live up to the ancient landmarks, rules and regulations. Do not see them infringed.—Freemasons' Repository.

London: W. MORLEY AND CO., 127 Regent Street, W.

We gladly welcome these sterling publications from this well known firm; from what we have seen of them we predict they will find a prominent position among the popular pieces of the season. "The Flower of Forgetfulness" is a song from the German of Em. Geibel, by Theo. Marzials, and has been set to most appropriate music by Otto Cantor. Frederick Bevan has composed some pretty and melodious music to the words of Clifton Bingham's "Taken in Tow," which should be eagerly taken up by those who hear it, while Gerald Lane has both written and composed "The Crown of Life." This is a thoroughly good work, one that can be sung with credit to the singer, and with pleasure to the listener. Another splendid song is "My Liege Lady," the verses of which are from the pen of Augusta Hancock, while the music of C. Francis Lloyd is of a character that it must rapidly become popular. A jolly little song is Clifton Bingham's "Time to Spare," which has been set to such bright tuneful music, by Charles Deacon, that it is sure to find a hearty welcome both in the drawing and concert room. Vale-Lane's second new American "Barn Dance" is of a spirited description, easy of execution, yet nevertheless catchy. Two good waltzes are "Paulina" and "Sweet Maiden," and we recommend them to the consideration of ball programme compilers. The former is by Cyril Dare, while Vale-Lane is responsible for the latter. A neat little pamphlet is Messrs. Morley's "Vocal Gems." It is only a means of advertising some of this firm's latest publications, but it is so well got up that it is fully entitled to a word of praise.

At the Liverpool Coroner's Court, on the 14th inst., Mr. E. Gibson Deputy Coroner held an inquest on the body of Bro. Robert Taylor Britten, aged fifty-three, estate agent, living at 13 Chapel Road, Anfield. Deceased was a prominent Freemason in Liverpool, and had been a Past Master of the Everton Lodge, No. 823, of the Kirkdale Lodge, No. 1756, and a Past Principal of the Everton Chapter, and some time ago received the Provincial honour of P.P.G.S. of W. Dr. Hendry stated that death resulted from apoplectic seizure, and death had been accelerated by the awkward position in which deceased had fallen between his counter and the wall, thus causing suffocation.

One hundred years ago there was no Masonic Lodge in the territory now occupied by the Grand Jurisdictions of Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska. Now Indiana has 470 Lodges, with more than 25,000 members; Michigan, 369 Lodges, with more than 33,000 members; Illinois, 700 Lodges, with 43,000 members; Missouri, 555 Lodges, with 29,000 members; Iowa, 451 Lodges, with fully 23,000 members; Kansas, 342 Lodges, with more than 18,000 members; Nebraska, 198 Lodges, with 10,000 members; and Wisconsin, 217 Lodges, with 14,000 members. Think of this vast change. A total of nearly 3,300 Lodges against none, and a total of nearly 200,000 members against a few non-affiliates. Also fine Masonic Homes in Michigan, Illinois and Missouri, against no Masonic Charity.—American Mason.

A member suspended for dues, owes to the Lodge just the amount due at the time of suspension, as surely and as justly as he would owe the same amount for purchases from his grocer or his butcher; and he should, in honour, feel as much the obligation to pay the former sum as he would the latter. Honour demands the payment, and the laws should be so framed as to compel the cancellation of such indebtedness. As a constituent of the Lodge, he has incurred liabilities—as an honest man he should discharge the obligations. The excuse that he wishes to "drop out" is not sufficient. As a member of a firm, the civil law demands that those composing it shall pay up all liabilities before dissolution—as a member of a Lodge the laws of the Order should demand the same discharge of duty. If payment is refused, the amount due should be charged up to the delinquent and collected by civil process as other debts are collected.
